PROPOSAL CONTENT:

1. Organisation overview:

Name:

- VoiceForAll Organisation.

History:

- The VoiceForAll Organisation was founded in 2018 by Oratile Matlhabane who grew up in realization that Gender-Based Violence affects both genders. Oratile is passionate advocate for equality and social justice who witnessed the deep impact Gender-Based Violence has on both genders. She grew up in an environment where Gender-Based Violence was widespread but rarely spoke about. While growing up she observed how survivors/victims were often silenced, with many survivors/victims not receiving support and care which the whole situations motivated her to start an organisation that would not only support survivors but would also embrace all and break the silence.

After 2 years of volunteering to be part of youth GBV support groups, she began to work with small teams of community groups, social workers and legal professions to talk about the new idea she has on starting an organisation then she started getting fundings from community groups and local businesses to start her organisation called VoiceForAll Organisation. VoiceForAll was launched in 2022 in Pretoria, South Africa.

Mission:

- The mission for VoiceForAll Foundation it is there as an organisation to support and take care of both gender's male and female from Gender-Based-Violence by providing them with counseling, shelter, legal assistance and hosting campaigns that would raise awareness about Gender-Based-Violence while working to embrace all and break the silence.

Vision statement:

- VoiceForAll visions a society where all survivors/victims of Gender-Based Violence are supported and empowered and where every voice and all stories are heard and voices replace silence and equality replaces fear.

Target audience:

- Women and girls – who experienced/experiences GBV
- Men and boys – who experienced/experiences GBV but often silence due to lack of support and social
- LGBTQI+ Community – who face GBV due to their identity.

2. Websites goals and objectives:

- Advocating for justice and equality.
- Breaking the silence about Gender-Based Violence.
- Providing safe spaces and support for victims.
- Raise more awareness and do campaigns to empower and give people knowledge about GBV.
- Coming up with strategies that might end GBV.
- Provide access services such as shelters, legal assistance and counselling.
- Build partnerships

Key performance indicators:

- Number of websites visits per week.
- Number of times spent on website pages.
- Number of sign-ups on the enquiry form.
- Number of donations made in a month.

Current Website Analysis:

Strengths:

- Clear mission and vision statement.
- Use of hero image on the home page and images in the gallery that show what the whole organisation is all about.
- Simple navigation menu which makes it simple for viewers to find the information.

Weaknesses:

- Less stories about victims about what they went through.
- No enquiry form for victims who want to report GBV.
- The services page doesn't have videos to show what we offer in our organisation.

Improvements:

- Adding more victims' stories about what they went through when they experienced Gender-Based Violence.
- Adding an enquiry form for people who want to report Gender-Based Violence or who want to be assisted.
- Adding videos to our services page to show people what we offer in our organisation.

3. Proposed Website Features and Functionality:

- Blog –It is for awareness articles, victim's stories and campaign updates.
- Contact page –Shows organization address, contact details, email address, and the map(location)
- Services page –Shows shelter information, counselling, legal help and contact forms.
- Home page – It showcases Hero image, Logo and slogan
- About – It shows the mission, vision, goals and objectives, the name of the team members, and their roles and the brief history of the organization.
- Gallery – Which shows images about Gender-Based Violence to show people what we are advertising and helping with in our organisation.
- Enquiry – Which shows an enquiry form for people who want to report Gender-Based Violence.

4. Design and User Experience:

Overall design:

- The VoiceForAll website follows a compassionate and support design showing the organisation mission and vision about standing against Gender-Based Violence. The aesthetic is professional and clean.

Color scheme:

- Purple - Symbolizes justice, courage and dignity.
- White- Symbolizes peace and safety.
- Purple and teal (teal) - Healing and calmness.
